Olympics 2012 – Masonic Symbolism

emancipationfromslavery.com/2011/05/26/olympics-2012-unveiling-a-messiah/

The true meaning of the 5 circles on the OLYMPIC logo: The emblem of the Olympic Games is composed of five interlocking rings (blue, yellow, black, green, and red respectively) on a white field. First of all the symbol consists of five rings...Baron Pierre de Coubertin specifically decided to include five rings. The number five is considered powerful in Western magic, and is represented by the pentagram, or five-pointed star...

THE FIVE COLOURS AND THEIR SYMBOLISM

All six colours used in the Olympic symbol have a significant meaning to Freemasons. As a Freemason, De Coubertin understood the symbolic meaning of the colours he selected...The Olympic Symbol is placed on a white background.

- In Masonry and elsewhere white is the symbol of purity. The idea of purity is represented by white garments worn within the Masonic Lodge...
- The first ring in the Olympic symbol is blue. Blue is the supreme colour of Masonry. It is the unquestioned Masonic possession of every Mason...
- The second Olympic ring is black. Black from the remotest antiquity has been the symbol of grief and such is its significance to the Mason...
- The third ring is coloured red. Red is the colour of fire, and fire was to the Egyptians the symbol of the regeneration and the purification of souls...
- The fourth ring is coloured green...the unchanging colour of the various ever-green trees, shrubs, and so forth, is, in the system of Masonry, the colour symbolic of the unchanging immortality of all that is divine and true...
- The fifth and final ring is yellow. Yellow was to the ancients the symbol of light and thus illumination. Yellow is a true Masonic symbolic colour...

“They provoked him to jealousy with strange gods, with abominations provoked they him to anger” Deuteronomy 32:16. The message is clear:

“Except ye repent” Luke 13:3, expect more storms!

You needn't trade in your Audi or not watch Olympic events but be warned and keep in mind: “God is not mocked” Galatians 6:7
