

Ever since Nursing Officer Colleen McGrath came to Christianity in a field hospital in Italy, Satan has been hot on her trail. It's 1944, and World War II is still going strong, but the threats of violence that follow her aren't just accidents of war.

As gunfire continues to sound, Nazi conspirators are waging a spiritual battle as well. Once Colleen learns of their plans, she must prepare for a journey that will test her faith and fortitude more than ever before. Will she ever reach her desired haven?

---

Alan O'Reilly has been studying the history of World War II for over forty years now. With his books Sound of Battle and Desired Haven, he both commemorates the World War II generation and tackles the theme of Christian faith under fire. O'Reilly lives in North Yorkshire, England, with his wife.

DESIRED HAVEN

ALAN O'REILLY

DESIRED HAVEN

ALAN O'REILLY

